Williams and Washburn, After Two Hard Fought Sets, Lose Third Decisively.

By WILLIAM T. TILDEN 2D.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD Boston, Aug. 27.—Before Boston's largest tennis throng since the Davis cup tie between England and Australia in 1914, Vincent Richards of Yonkers and I this afternoon regained the national lawn tennis doubles title which he won in 1918, and relinquished the following year to Norman Brookes and Gerald Patterson of Aus-

We triumphed only after the most bitterly contested struggle of my career over Watson M. Washburn of New York and R. Norris Williams 2d of Boston at 13-11, 12-10 and 6-1.

It was a case where the slightest faltering in handling the return of service would have cost either of the first two sets. The third and final set was less of a struggle. Other victors of the day were:

National Mixed Doubles-Miss Mary K. Browne, Santa Monica, Cal., and William M. Johnston, San Francisco. National Junior Singles - Vincent

Richards, Yonkers, National Junior Doubles-Arnold W Jones and W. W. Ingraham, Providence, National Father and Son Doubles— Fred G. and Fred C. Anderson, Anderson, Brooklyn.
Longwood Invitation Singles—Miss Mary K. Browne.

Unquestionably the breaks of the game, which fell to its, were a potent factor in the early stages of the men's doubles final. The match opened on my delivery and service was not broken until the twenty-fourth game, which Richards and I succeeded in getting through Washburn's delivery. It was nerve racking tennis to play, and the "Oh's" and "Ah's" of the gallery were frequent enough to indicate that it was nerve racing to watch.

All four men were serving with such

All four men were serving with such severity that the returns were necessarily high end uncertain. Washburn, particularly was tow form off the ground in the opening games, but his volleying and generalship made up in a large part for their early weakness. Richards was at his best, although he too shared the general mability to put the ball into play. Williams, during the greater portion of the first set, was possibly the best man on the court, while I was uncertain and inclined to be erratic, my service alone proving to be reliable.

The second set was almost a replica of the first, despite the fact that Richards dropped the eleventh game, giving Washburn a 6-5 lead on his service. At this point my youthful partner and myseif turned to a lobbing attack under which Washburn proved vulnerable, making three costly errors that enabled us in draw even at 5 at 1 partner and myself turned to a lobbing attack under which Washburn proved vulnerable, making three costly errors that enabled us to draw even at 6-all. Service again took command to the twenty-second game, when Williams, who play on the whole had been magnificent, messed two smashes and netted an easy volley which cost the Davis cup stars the game. That proved to be the psychological break of the day.

Under the added confidence of a two set lead. Richards, who had played splendidly thus far, lifted his game to unheard of heights, while the corresponding depression on Williams and Washburn materially lowered their defence. The tow headed junior champion dominated the situation. Astonishing

We based our attack on an attempt to lob our opponents away from the net and then to climb in ourselves. The W. W. team made the tactical error of concentrating their attack on Richards when they found the boy playing so well. Williams impressed me as very nervous and often missed through overanxiety. Washburn, as always, was crafty and cool, but lacked his usual steadiness off the ground. On the form to-day Williams and Washburn should handliy defeat the Japanese doubles team in the Davis cup match next week. There seems little reason to doubt that they will represent America in the Davis cup competition. They re-cently defeated Kumagae and Shimidzu in the Rhode Island State tournament at Providence and should insure America of the doubles point against our chal-

In winning the mist doubles title of the United States Miss Mary K. Browne and "Little Bill" Johnston played a splendid uphill battle to overcome Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory and myself, 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Japanese Triumph Over Australian Tennis Team

Take Four Matches Out of Five in Davis Cup Final.

Newrort, R. I., Aug. 27.—The stoical control of Ichiya Kumagae, the Japanese tennis star, won the Nipponese combination a place in the Davis cupchallenge round when he defeated J. O. Anderson of Australia by scores of 2—6, 7—5, 2—6, 6—2, 6—1, on the courts of the Casino here to-day. This victory, combined with the two singles matches won by Kumagae and Shimidzu on Thursday, gave them the margin of one match necessary for a place against the United States team at Forest Hills next week. Zenzo Shimidzu won the final points

States team at Forest Hills next week.

Zenzo Shimidzu won the final points for Japan by defeating U. B. Hawkes of the Australasian forces, 4—8, 6—2, 6—2, 6—2. It was much the same tamand trieless tennis that the Japanese have exploited in the matches here in which they conquered the team from the Autipodes by four victories to one. The only contest won for the Australasians was the doubles match yesterday.

The match between Kumagae and Anderson this morning followed the trend of all the singles. Kumagae was steadimayed, 2—6, 6—3.

Miss Browne's Sparkling Tennis.

The Californiane found some trouble in coordinating their team work in the first set, which we won handly, but they profited by their experience. Miss Browne's early deficiencies disappeared completely and she flashed her fastest tennis. Her magnifeers driving and volleying made it rather useless for use to struggie, but we did so to our ulmost. Although many of the games vere close Mrs. Mallory and I never perfously threatened to take either of the last two sets. Bill Johnston eald afterward that he cipyed it better than he ever expected to enjoy a mixed doubles match.

Vincent Eichards retained his juntor singles crown, capturing the event for the third successive year, this time at the expense of Arnold W. Jones of Providence. It was a close straight set affair, scored at 6—3, 7—5, 9—7. Richards was unquestionably fired and found himself trailed at 1—5 in the second set, but strategic chances of pace and a call upon his last reserve enabled him to appure the next six games. Both players bettled through a terrific third set in which Richards was more or less for rease to be returned a winner. There
